GILCHRIST & RUTTER PARTNER SELECTED AS “TOP LAND USE LEADER” IN CALIFORNIA BY DAILY JOURNAL

LOS ANGELES – Robert I. McMurry, partner and head of the Land Use Practice at the law firm of Gilchrist & Rutter PC, which conducts a broad practice in the areas of real estate, business and commercial transactions, environmental law, and civil and complex business litigation, has been recognized as a Top Land Use Leader by the Los Angeles Daily Journal.

Twenty-five attorneys were recognized throughout California as Land Use Leaders based on their specific representative case work, regulation, and litigation, as well as their overall body of land use-related work.

“It is an honor to be among such an esteemed group of people working in the land use field,” said Mr. McMurry. “At Gilchrist & Rutter we emphasize the importance of providing a breadth of land use services to help our clients resolve disputes, comply with CEQA and obtain approvals.”

Mr. McMurry’s practice focuses on land use, environment and water issues. He has more than 25 years of experience in all aspects of major land development, including entitlements, water issues and drafting, advice and litigation on CEQA documents, for projects including residential, commercial, redevelopment, public institutions, and parks/open spaces.

Since 1983, Gilchrist & Rutter Professional Corporation has provided its clients with legal services in the areas of real estate, business and commercial transactions, environmental law and business litigation.
